Malyon College
is an approved institution of the Australian College of Theology

TH403/D is offered by Malyon College as part of the Bachelor of Ministry and Bachelor of Theology, authorized for distance and contact delivery by the college, which is an accredited award of the Australian College of Theology (ACT).

MALYON COLLEGE

At Malyon we recognise that the world is changing. These are times of great challenge and opportunity. Our commitment is to raising up a generation of influential Christians who have a strong biblical base, skills in leadership and ministry, and a heart for God.

We have been training Christian leaders for over 100 years, and we've learnt a few things about theological training. Our graduates are serving all over the world as pastors, cross-cultural workers, workplace leaders, chaplains, church leaders and theological faculty.

Malyon offers full-time and part-time study options through lecture, intensive and distance modes. We have excellent resources for students including a large library, wireless internet and 24 hour access to the campus. All our awards are accredited through the Australian College of Theology.

The Australian College of Theology

The ACT was established under the auspices of the General Synod of the Anglican Church of Australia in 1891. The ACT is a company limited by guarantee governed by a nine-member Board of Directors. The Anglican Primate of Australia presides as the chairman of meetings of the company which consists of 54 persons (in 2010). The ACT is an Australasian provider of state accredited higher education courses leading to awards in theology and other disciplines related to Christian ministry. The ACT operates as an ecumenical consortium of some 2,500 students enrolled in 19 Bible and theological colleges approved to teach the awards of the ACT. These awards range from two-year diplomas, three-year undergraduate and coursework masters degrees to masters and doctoral research degrees.

The ACT has a centrally devised and managed curriculum and a quality assurance process that are applied across the whole network of affiliated colleges. The day-to-day educational system is managed by the Dean from the ACT office in Sydney. Academic governance is the responsibility of the Academic Board which oversees all academic activities of the College. The standing committees of the Academic Board share this responsibility by monitoring the quality of delivery and resourcing, developing policy, and reviewing the course structure for research, coursework and diploma courses. The membership of the Academic Board and its committees is comprised mostly of faculty members of affiliated colleges. A number of senior university academics are represented to help ensure that ACT practice (especially in the outcome of the consideration of research examiner's reports and general academic policy) remains comparable with the standards of and best practice in the university sector.

As a HEP under the Higher Education Support Act, the College was required to undergo a quality audit conducted by the Australian Universities Quality Agency (AUQA). The AUQA Audit Report was publicly released on the AUQA website in February 2007.

In 2010 the company consists of 54 members composed in the following way:

- (1) the Anglican Primate of Australian and the Dean of the ACT,
- (2) the principals of 10 Anglican Theological Colleges,
- (3) 21 persons elected by the House of Bishops of the General Synod,
- (4) the principals of 11 affiliated colleges approved to deliver the research degrees of the ACT,
- (5) 5 graduates holding an ACT research degree,
- (6) 5 graduates holding any other degree of the ACT.

UNIT DETAILS

Unit Description

“Developing Christians of influence” (Jer.3:15)

The mission of Malyon College, confessed in its purpose statement and rooted in God’s own mission (‘missio Dei’), is to develop Christian leaders who not only know the gospel but also trust it and live it out in their personal lives, ministry and mission. In service of this goal the suite of theology units at Malyon College has two aims. It helps students begin to formulate a coherent understanding of the gospel (usually called systematic theology) and then assists them to begin thinking through its implications for their everyday lives (usually called practical theology). In sum, the units provide a creative space within which students can improvise and rehearse a performance which befits the unfolding drama of what the Triune God is doing throughout history in preparation for doing so upon the world stage.

The recommended introduction to the suite of theology units at Malyon College, Theology for Everyday Life (PC421), acquainted students with the usefulness of theology (i.e. a true understanding of the gospel which directs the Church’s practice) by allowing them a firsthand experience of how theological reflection upon all of life can facilitate the fulfilment of their vocation to “do all to the glory of God” (1 Cor.10:31). The Knowledge of God (TH401) then clarified how we can know God or the gospel at all and rehearsed a faithful performance of this method of knowing God in Christian life, ministry and mission. The Doctrine of God and Christ (TH402) then employed this epistemology in order to develop an understanding of Christ (His person and work) and God (His triune being and attributes) and considered their implications for the way we live and do mission. In the current unit, The Doctrines of Grace and Eschatology (TH403), we will now use this same methodology to construct understandings of the Christian life (including predestination, effectual calling, regeneration, union with Christ, justification, sanctification and glorification) and the last things (including the second coming, final judgment, millennium, final states and new heavens and earth) and begin to rehearse a performance which befits them in our everyday lives, ministry and mission.

UNIT LECTURER

The single passion and vocation which Andrew Dunstan (BMin, BTh (Hons I), MPhil, DPhil (cand.)) prayerfully pursues anew each morning is for the attention of Christian leaders to be so caught by the gospel of the good, true and beautiful God that they embody it in endless faithful and striking improvisations in their ministry, mission and Christian lives.

Andrew became a Christian when an encounter with the gospel for the first time during a WEC High School camp sparked a powerful revolution of his entire thought and life. He concluded thereafter that God was enlisting him to the ministry of the gospel as a pastor.

After initial studies in psychology at the University of Queensland, Andrew completed a BMin and BTh (Hons) through Malyon College. Further convinced of the power and worth of the gospel through his theology lectures under Jim Gibson, yet troubled by the tendency of many pastors to let other sources shape their habits of ministry and piety, Andrew sensed his calling specify into a vocation to be a pastor-theologian: to help forge both a theology (i.e. explication of the gospel) whose goal is practice and a practice of Christian life, mission and ministry whose basis is truly theological (i.e. shaped by the gospel). This catalysed an honours thesis which investigated the Scottish theologian TF Torrance's understanding of why the gospel exercises authority over people, and especially the role that both its 'depth' and 'compulsion' have in this.

After several years rehearsing a theological practice of ministry as an associate pastor at North-East Baptist Church (Nundah), a social worker, a volunteer with WEC and SU Queensland and an itinerant speaker, Andrew won the FJ Church Scholarship which provided almost $50 000 to study towards his vocation. Moving to England with his wife, Elspeth (Elf), he completed a Master of Philosophy specialising in modern theology at the University of Oxford under the supervision of Dr Joel Rasmussen and Reverend Professor Paul Fiddes. His thesis explored the Swiss Reformed theologian Karl Barth's understanding of the beauty (i.e. persuasiveness) of the glory of God. He is currently in the final stages of expanding this under the supervision of Rev. Prof. Paul Fiddes in order to complete a Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Oxford. Whilst at the University of Oxford Andrew was the Graduate Research Assistant (GRA) at the Oxford Centre for Christianity and Culture, was offered a scholarship to work under Rev Prof Alister McGrath and completed his first academic publication: a book chapter on Barth's theology of beauty (translated into Russian!).

Andrew and his wife returned to Malyon College in late 2013 in order to develop the college's vision of the centrality of the gospel to systematic theology (knowledge) into one which also places it at the centre of practical theology (practice) as Lecturer in Theology.

In completing assessments, students should note that:

1. The College requirements for the writing and submission of assignments are to be adhered to at all times, as marks will be deducted for incorrect and poor presentation. Of particular importance is that the official College title page is to be used, and that the word length be indicated.
2. The current Student Assignment Guide is available to all students on the Moodle site; it should be studied, both when starting out and at the beginning of each academic year as adjustments or changes may be made from time-to-time.
3. With respect to length, students are permitted to write at a length of 10% either side of the stated length; for example, a 1000-word assignment should be within a 900-1100 word length. Students will be penalized 10% over the word limit and may be required to resubmit the assignment in terms of the stipulated word length.
4. With respect to the List of References, a specific number of references will not be set; however, students should note the guidelines indicated for the specific assessment requirement. However, students should note that:

Each learning guide will present a 'trigger question': a practical dilemma which they are likely to encounter in real life. Students must write responses of approximately 350 words to a total of six of these on the appropriate module forums. These should demonstrate their ability to engage with, comprehend and apply the prescribed module content to the practical problem with which they are confronted. 1. Engages with the prescribed module content.
2. Synthesises and comprehends prescribed module content.
3. Where appropriate critically evaluates the module content.
4. Applies the module content to the practical problem.
5. Responds to a post by another student.
6. Demonstrates clarity of expression, correct grammar and concision.

Length: 6 posts of approximately 350 words each

References: Not required

Due: 2 June by electronic submission on Moodle

Students must demonstrate an ability for sustained theological reasoning or argumentation. They are to do this by researching and writing a 2500-word essay which responds to ONE of the following three questions:

1. Evaluate N.T. Wright's view of justification. Is it more plausible than the traditional Protestant view of the matter?
2. Evaluate the soteriology of the booklet Saints by Nature by Mark Greenwood. On the basis of your evaluation would you recommend it to your homegroup?

6. Argument is credible: it is backed up by both Scripture and appropriate primary and secondary resources.

Length: 2500 words
References: No less than 14 meaningful references
Due: 22 April by electronic submission on Moodle
Mark allocation: 40%

Requirement 3: Semester Examination

Students must demonstrate a comprehension of the basic theological content of the unit. They will do this by sitting a one-hour final examination at the end of the semester. Students should note that while all topics in the unit are subject to assessment, no topic will be assessed twice. Moreover the examination may include any, but not necessarily all, syllabus topics. Students will have access to an unmarked, standard Bible. The examination will be structured as follows:

- a. Section A, compulsory short questions (15% of total unit mark).
